LoDo (Lower Downtown)

Designated a Historic District in 1988, this redbrick Victorian neighborhood had fallen on hard times until a massive revitalization project reclaimed the 26 block area. Since then, live-work lofts and hip and high-end restaurants have dominated the streets. The famed Tattered Cover bookshop is here, as is the city's historic Union Station. On the Northern edge of LoDo is the sparkling brick-edified Coors Field -- home to Major League Baseball's Colorado Rockies, and one of the newest professional sports stadiums in the country.

ODYSSEY

16th St. Mall, 16th St. btw Wazee and Broadway, Denver CO
